

Tourism

The Republic of Angola has stunning landscapes characterized by natural beauty, such as warm water beaches, dense and rich forests, especially the Maiombe forest, the legendary Namibe desert where the beautiful Welwitschia Mirabilis grows, the charm of 'Serra da Leba' in the Namibe Province, the majestic Calandula Falls in Malange, among others.

With the attainment of Peace, the reconstruction process began and Angola is moving towards becoming an excellent tourist destination, thanks to ecotourism, the richness of its traditional culture, its beautiful beaches, low-lands, mountains and microclimates.

For being a less explored domain, tourism in Angola is becoming increasingly attractive to both national and foreign tourists including businessmen who are gradually developing projects to enhance this new industry.

In this perspective, the Government has been investing efforts to support these initiatives and is preserving tourist sites such as: Tropical forests, rivers, lakes, waterfalls, caves, beaches, fauna and flora.

The Sector is creating environment to offer adequate services and assistance to tourists. Angolan tourism is booming. The results achieved and the statistical data show this reality and it is expected that this industry will gain the desired dimension.

Please be welcome.
